“Surviving the Toxic Workplace”

THURSDAY, January 24 | GUEST SPEAKER

Linnda Durré, Ph.D.

Recommended for 1 CPE in Ethics

Linnda Durré, Ph.D., is a psychotherapist, business consultant, national speaker; magazine, Internet, and newspaper columnist; and television and radio talk show host. Linnda will discuss proven techniques for dealing with toxic workplace issues successfully. Are you dealing with pestering coworkers, unmanageable managers, or angry clients? These encounters can take their toll on your job performance. Even organizations with codes of conduct and ethics training will sometimes employ people with toxic behavior. In “Surviving the Toxic Workplace,” Linnda teaches you how to pinpoint and treat these office maladies with effective communication, integrity and conflict negotiation techniques that are sure to bring you peace of mind and peace at work.

Overcoming Cultural Barriers to Integrity

Lori Tansey Martens

President and Chief Executive Officer
International Business Ethics Institute

Ever have trouble explaining something that you believe is morally important to someone who doesn't understand? It is possible that they may be as frustrated as you are. Cultural influences, whether due to regional customs, religious beliefs, traditions or societal factors, can create barriers in working together to find the right path to follow. Ms. Martens will be discussing the importance of going beyond what is typically known in companies as compliance toward understanding the spirit behind corporate ethics policies.

Purpose + Integrity = Happiness

Dr. Marilyn Tam

Former CEO Aveda, President of Reebok Apparel, and Vice President of Nike

Dr. Marilyn Tam has developed four simple, straightforward principles that not only help people stay on a solid ethical track, but provide greater happiness and fulfillment in the process. Rising from the lowest-ranked member in a Chinese family who did not value female children, Dr. Tam went on to achieve executive positions with Aveda, Reebok and Nike. Find out how she garnered her inner strengths to overcome the challenges and live a life of purpose based on unflinching core values.

HOW TO BUILD A WINNING ORGANIZATION
Increasing Productivity And Profits With Commitment To Employees, Customers, And Integrity

THURSDAY, February 21, 2013
Brad Frank, President, Tulsa Tube Bending

Brad Frank, President of Tulsa Tube Bending will discuss the TTB way. TTB has promoted an environment of training, continuous improvement and ensuring outstanding service to its customers. TTB lives its mission through a high level of commitment both to its employees but also to other companies in the Tulsa community. This has meant not only significant productivity gains, unwavering ethical conduct in its business practices and high employee morale, but also the satisfaction of helping others in the community. Mr. Frank will also give attendees a brief introduction to current practices in continuous improvement and the kata way of thinking and provide companies some guidance on how to pursue more information on these important initiatives in today's competitive manufacturing environment.
